

Finally affordable 3D footage for every project!

Stereobank hits 1,000+ S3D premium clips indexed by adding its latest series of Super Slow Motion 3D footage, and confirms being the most comprehensive 3D stock footage library covering most 3D footage needs at an affordable price.

###

Paris, Nov 29, 2011 – Sterobank.com, the leading S3D stock footage marketplace, announced today that the biggest catalogue of 3D stock shots is hitting a strategic milestone by adding its latest series of Super Slow Motion 3D footage. With 1,000+ premium S3D indexed clips and tens of hours of creative footage, Stereobank confirms being the essential partner for producers and post-production companies looking for genuine 3D footage to complete their 3D projects in HD, 2k and even 4K definition.

Stereobank.com is the widest catalogue of stereoscopic 3D stock footage. And it is now covering so many topics like lifestyle, nature, aerials, business, sport, macro, super slow-motion and more, that it is a dream come true for any 3D producer looking to enhance a project. The S3D footage from around the world is available in no time and at a flexible license rate.

"The 3D footage we receive from our contributors is getting more creative by the day, these great stereographers understand the needs of the producers for stunning 3D content." says Morgan David de Lossy, Chief Art Director "We are also proud to distribute the most stunning slow-motion and macro shots ever seen. Thanks to the 3D depth you can now fully enjoy this mind-blowing time wrap effect as never before!"

Water balloon exploding in slow motion (Left +Right)

Stereobank is always looking for new stereoscopic content to distribute. Counting more than 50 professional contributors worldwide, from independent stereographers to 3D production studios, the company is proud to welcome new filmmakers with talents!

"Our latest enrolled contributor published these amazing 60fps surf shots, showing scenes where he's in the middle of the action with surfers missing him by an inch or two, and with waves crashing on him" says Morgan David de Lossy.

Surfer riding waves shot at 60fps (Left +Right)

Any studio looking to produce an 3D commercial to hit the market this winter can visit www.stereobank.com to find creative content about Christmas and winter holidays or get in touch now with a Stereobank sales representative by email: sales@stereobank.com

Affordable 3D footage is now available for every project!

###

About Stereobank

Stereobank, founded in 2010, is a stock footage marketplace dedicated to stereoscopic 3D video. Clips are used in commercials, broadcasting, 3D product demonstration or featured content. Stereobank's catalogue of High Quality HD 3D is the leader in lifestyle, travel and business and includes nature, time-lapse, slow-motion, macro and medical footage.

Stereobank's founding team is expert in 3D video and stock footage distribution. The company headquarter is in Paris, France.

www.stereobank.com

For press information: pr@stereobank.com

For sales information: sales@stereobank.com